Team Spirit Challenge - Highland Games

Awrite! Mukker!

The earliest settlers in what is now Scotland County were composed largely of Highland Scots. Highlanders have been living in this area since 1729 when North Carolina became a royal colony. Laurinburg hosts the Highland Games every October at the historic John Blue house. This event draws clan members to compete in athletic competitions such as tossing the caber, weight toss for distance and height, sheaf toss and tug of war. Traditional Scottish Highland dances are also part of the fun.

St. Andrews invites all competitors, coaches, and volunteers to join us in our version of the Highland Games. Select a clan name for your team, dress in tartan or plaid and be ready for a braw time!

Guid Luck!
