Student Responsibilities and the St. Andrews Community Honor Code

As members of the St. Andrews community, students have responsibilities that are reflected in the St. Andrews Community Honor Code below and described in detail in The Saltire, the student handbook. A copy of The Saltire is given to each student at the beginning of Fall Semester. Students are expected to be familiar with its content and will be held responsible for adhering to the policies within the handbook.

St. Andrews Community Honor Code

(Accepted by the St. Andrews Community, Spring 1996)

Preamble

All members of the St. Andrews College Community must be responsible for their choices of behavior and make sure that these behaviors do not infringe upon other community members. The College has the authority and responsibility to establish rules and standards, which may require academic, moral, and ethical behavior that is considered above the standards of society at large. The principal responsibility for proper conduct rests with students, and as much as possible, they all are encouraged to resolve conflicts of individual rights and responsibilities themselves. The College will become involved, however, when a student cannot resolve a conflict her/himself; when there exists a reasonable basis to believe that local, state or federal laws have been broken; when there could be or is potential for personal harm or property damage; or when there exists a reasonable basis to believe that college conditions or policies have been violated. St. Andrews requires students to obey local, state and federal laws. The College does reserve the right to hold responsible those students whose behavior, either on or off campus, blemishes the College's general image or reputation, or otherwise evidences disregard for the safety, well-being or rights of others. If a student is involved in an illegal act off campus, the College does reserve the right to initiate disciplinary action.

Community Honor Code

I promise to be a contributing member of the St. Andrews Presbyterian College Community and supportive of its mission: to be responsible for my choices of behavior, to be honest in all my academic endeavors, to be respectful of the property and person of others, and to live in harmony with the social and natural environments which sustain this community.
